About Payments University

For the past four years, PacPay, the Federal Reserve Bank, and Macha/PAR have held a Payments University event for payments professionals from the islands of Hawai'i. In prior years, this event has featured speakers from Hawai'i, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Georgia, Tennessee, and North Carolina. As a result of the COVID-19 pandemic, this year's Payments University will be a virtual event with the same, high quality education you expect.

Payments University is an intense, collegiate-style learning experience that provides relevant and concentrated payments education. Whether you're new to the payments industry or you desire a higher understanding of payments, the multi-track agenda provides targeted education through fundamental and advanced courses. All attendees participate in general sessions, then, individuals choose breakout sessions based upon their educational interests.

Who Should Participate?

We recommend participation to individuals in ACH operations, AAP and APRP candidates, those in need of continuing education credits, and anyone else with a desire to learn more about relevant payments topics
